ENTERPRISE CABINET HEATERS -- For Coal

No. 20

These Cabinet Heaters operate on the same principle as a warm air furnace, they draw in the cold air at the bottom, heat and moisten it and force it through the ornamental grilled top. They have a heating efficiency much greater than the ordinary stove and are specially designed to burn Western Canadian coals. Their absolutely tight construction keeps dirt and dust inside the heater. The ashpit is very deep and has a large ash pan. The water pans are of ample capacity and easily filled. Triangular Pull Out Type Grates. The heavy copper fused steel body is lined with thick fire brick. No steel is exposed to the corrosive action of smoke. The top and large feed doors are of cast iron. The tops swing and are fitted with covers.

WHEN YOU BUY ENTERPRISE RANGES AND FURNACES YOU ACQUIRE QUALITY PRODUCTS

The makers of Enterprise Ranges, knowing that the Fire Box is the life of any range, have made Enterprise Fire Boxes extra strong, with supermetal cast in small, very heavy sections, air protected to insure long life.

The Speedyheat Streamlined Flues of Enterprise Ranges give quicker morning fires and heat.

The good, tight joints mean more heat from the fuel.

Their good ovens and non-tip oven rack are the joy of every cook.

The "Intensifier" Ring (on the bottom of every Enterprise cover) cups the heat under the cooking vessel, creates a "hot spot" and speeds up all top cooking.

The Solid Copper Reservoirs, heated by direct contact, will last a lifetime, as will also the Copper Fused Steel and the Triple Blended Iron of which the Ranges are made.

Enterprise Ranges have:—Door Springs that don't break—Cooler Handles—Accurate Thermometers—Deep Lustre Nickel and Double Thick Vitreous Porcelain Enamel Finish—Ventilated Clear Vision Warming Closets with Drop Doors, easy to use and clean.

Water Fronts for all Enterprise Ranges are available at reasonable prices.

With High Closet and Reservoir, Standard Nickel Finish, Cream Enamel Trim.

"DURO" ALUMINUM WATERLESS COOKER

Waterless Cookers are being featured in Household Science Schools which endorse this scientific way of cooking. A few of its many advantages are that cheaper cuts of meat are made tender and savory while the health-building mineral salts and vitamins too often lost in ordinary cooking are retained. With a Waterless Cooker a whole meal can be cooked over one stove hole or burner without watching. They also prevent loss of weight by shrinkage and cooking odors from filling the house.
